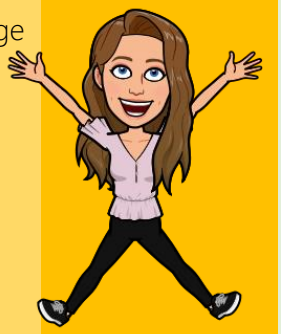
Year 3 Newsletter

Last week we were learning....

about how Muslims celebrate Eid Al-Fitr. Some of the children shared their own knowledge about Ramadan as well as Iftar, Suhoor and prayers. The children then worked collaboratively to design and make a 3D model of a Mosque.

During our computing session, the children finished making their Google Slides presentation. They added animations and transitions to the slides to make it appealing to the reader.

We are very proud of the children as they completed the 'Bunny Hop' to raise money for FOTFA! They all had fun on the space-hoppers!

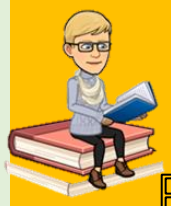


This week we will be learning....

how our gardens grow as we begin our new science unit. The children will begin by labelling parts of a plant including the stem, roots and leaves. We will also be discussing the functions of each of the parts.

We will begin a new core text in English written by Michael Morpurgo called 'This morning, I met a whale'. We will start off by reading the first chapter of the story, thinking of the setting and developing the vocabulary needed to write our own setting descriptions.

In Maths, we will be starting our second unit on fractions. We will start by completing a pre-assessment to see what we can remember from the last unit and move on to adding and subtracting fractions for the remainder of the week.



Don't Forget!

Children should be logging onto Spelling Shed to practise their spellings. The winning class of the week will win 15 minutes extra break.

As the warmer months are approaching, please ensure your child brings in a water bottle and wears appropriate clothing. Can you also please ensure all belongings are labelled.
