Week beginning

18.03.24

Year 6 Newsletter

Last week we were learning....

Last week, we had the opportunity to discover a range of new careers and used the Skills Builder framework to identify how our pre-existing skills can be transferred to multiple exciting career paths! Thank you to all the parents and visitors who gave up their time to share their skills set with our children and encouraging them to follow their dreams!

We also successfully followed a design brief and created, tested and modified our own miniature playgrounds – we were all very impressed with their creativity!

This week we will be learning....

This week, we will be stepping into the role of a politician after we are visited by our local MP. We will be learning what it entails to be an MP and using this knowledge to cooperatively and diplomatically put forward a new law to be added to our class charters!
We will also be using our scientific skills to continue experimenting with circuits in science, beginning to add more complex components such as resistors and buzzers.

Don't Forget!

Homework is due on a Monday so please remember to bring in your CGP book and your arithmetic paper to mark in class.

Home Learning...

Homework is set every MONDAY and due in the following Monday. This week Year 6 have the following online tasks to complete:

MyMaths: Log in for your set task.

Spelling Shed: List 23

CGP – Pages 20-21

Spellings

This week, our spellings are:

influential, martial, spatial, partial, confidential, essential, substantial, potential, sequential, torrential

Keep in touch!

Twitter / X:
@Towersfed

Email:
Year6@towersfederation.co.uk